[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 2.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

General Details of News.

LONDON, May 2.—Several agents of the Paris Commune arrived in this city yesterday. They have been commissioned to enter into contracts here for the purpose of repleni shing Paris. They propose to pay for goods in thirty days. Dealers decline to contract with them.

The Emperor Napoleon declared yesterday he would not return to France, nor had he given any promise of his return.

Thiers has determined on a coup d'etat after entering Paris making himself and Marshal MacMahon joint Regents with the Empress.

The report that Dombrowski is taken prisoner is not confirmed.

The Versaillists at no time occupied Fort Issy. After its desertion by the panic stricken garrison, volunteers raised by the Commune issued from the city, and not only re occupied the fort, which they found empty, but after hard fighting and great sacrifice of life, drove the enemy from the trenches carried one of their barricades, and remained in possession of the cemetery of Issy. They made an attempt to retake Les Molineaux but failed losing heavily in killed and wounded. Every effort will be made to hold Fort Issy but should it be captured appear inevitable it will be blown up. New works are being constructed around Issy, rendering the fort more formidable than ever. The enemy's fire to day has been mainly directed against Port de Ternes and Levalois.

A fresh attack on Neuilly is expected and reinforcements have been sent there. Labor on intrenchments is ceaseless.

Versailles Reports.

VERSAILLES, May 2.—Cannonading is going on along the whole line. A breach has been made in the walls of Issy.

In the Assembly to day Picard stated that important operations are now in progress and most important results achieved.

The British Parliament.

LONDON, May 2.—In the Chamber of Peers Lords Kimberley, Russell and Grey criticised the Whig Administration of Ireland, which was ably defended by Granville.

In the House of Commons there was an interesting discussion on ocean postage. Bazley moved a resolution that the Postmaster General should make arrangements with the Postal Department of the United States for a reduction of the rates of postage on letters between England and America to one penny. He pointed out the importance of such reduction to the commercial and poorer classes, and urged that it would serve to strengthen the ties between the two nations.

Mundella and Horon supported the resolution. Monsell, Postmaster General, thought pending the present contracts with ocean steamer lines the reduction would be imprudent. He proceeded to argue generally against the change. Such reduction had failed to bring about an increase of business sufficient to compensate the Department. The shilling rate produced £130,600 the six penny rate, £91 000, the three penny rate brought in only £47,000. The total cost of the ocean steamer mail service as per contract, was £533 000. Total receipts, £765 000. Loss to the Department, £470 000.

Bazley accused the Postmaster General's estimate. He had reason to know that the Government at Washington was prepared for the reduction, and England should be ready to meet it.

The resolution was defeated and a substitute embodying the Gladstone view, was carried.

The German Parliament.

BERLIN, May 2.—In the German Parliament to day the bill incorporating Alsace and Lorraine came up before the House. Bismarck restated the argument on which the measure was based.

German armies hold possession of sufficient territory in France to secure the payment of indemnity in accordance with the preliminary terms of peace, should no other arrangement be arrived at.

EASTERN STATES.

Disturbance in New York.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The strike of the non society quarrymen continues. Collisions with the police have occurred. A riot is probable in the northern part of the city. The police are all under marching orders.

Connecticut Politics—Democrats Oppose Investigation of Election Returns.

HARTFORD, May 2.—The Republican members of the Senate to night nominated Hon. Isaac Hall, of Marlborough. President pro tem of the Senate, and Edward B. Bennett Clerk. The House Republican caucus nominated Hon. Edwin H. Bugbee for Speaker and B. A. Hough and Geo. H. Cowell for clerks.

The Democrats nominated E. W. Seymour for Speaker, and Reuben B. Nelson and Mr. Driscoll, of New Haven, for clerks. The Democratic caucus was secret, and that of the Republicans was held publicly in the Representative's Hall.

It is understood that the Democrats will strongly oppose the investigation by the committee on canvassing the vote on matters in dispute concerning the count of votes in New Haven and Enfield, whence the presiding officers sent statements that there were undoubted errors in the counts. The Legislative committee will have power to make a thorough investigation, in order to decide who actually received a majority of the votes cast for Governor. It is pretty certain from what has been learned from the action of the Democrats, that they will oppose investigation in every possible way when the Legislature acts in the matter to morrow. Republican nominees for legislative offices will be elected.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Arrived—schooner Margaret, Cracknell dismasted and water logged, in charge of crew placed on board at sea by brig Hesperus. The crew had no place to sleep, no chance to cook and were thoroughly exhausted when they arrived here.

Dr. J. Brekkie, who is in attendance at the Medical Association Convention, received a dispatch from San Andreas to day, saying that the hospital at that place was burned this morning and two lives lost.

Reports from all wine growing districts in the State warrant the belief that the grape crop this season will be the largest ever produced in California.

L. W. Kennedy late President of the Oriental Insurance Co. has been indicted by the Grand Jury for perjury in making what is alleged to have been a wilfull and corrupt false affidavit concerning the condition of said company before Geo. W. Mowe, Insurance Commissioner for the State of California. The company has been for some time defunct.

Pools for the great race to morrow are selling rapidly to night—running up to $300 and $100 each.

Wm. H. Seward, Jr., Knapp and Osborne and party, returned from Southern California this evening.

In two civil engineers were at work in the wilds of Michigan a couple of weeks ago eighteen or twenty miles from any camp one of them began to suspect that the other had become insane—a suspicion which was made a certainty when his companion came to him and said: "I wish you would hide my revolver and the axes for I come very near killing you with them last night. I got the revolver and cocked it at your head three times but something told me not to kill you with that, but to get the axe and then I was commanded not to kill you then, but I am afraid I will if you don't hide them and God knows I don't want to hurt any man." This was not very pleasing information and he did his best to persuade him to go back to the camp. Failing in this he left him went back alone, procured assistance, and the unfortunate man is now in an asylum.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

General Details of News.

VERSAILLES May 1.—Fort Issy progresses surrendering the hostages remanded there by Gen Favre as a guarantee that the fort will not be mined, and he threatens that if it is blown up the garrison will be shot.

Cluseret has been displaced by Rossila, a young man of 28, and a Lieutenant of the French Engineers.

PARIS, May 2.—The second enceinte fortifications, erected close to the fortifications of Issy are in ruins. The village is evacuated. It is understood that the fort has been mined, and that when the Versailles troops enter, it is to be blown up.

Dombrowski has ordered the inhabitants of Neuilly to evacuate the place within 24 hours.

PARIS, May 2.—There is to be an immense concentration of Communists at Issy.

It is said that of the contributions demanded from railways 1,630,000 francs have already been received, and weekly payments will be made hereafter.

The Masons are ordered to retake the banners planted on the ramparts, the Versaillists declining to respect them.

More Bloody Fighting.

LONDON, May 3.—The Times' special says the efforts of conciliation continue, and seven societies propose a monster peace meeting next Sunday.

In the affair at Clamart, the slaughter was terrible. Three hundred insurgents were bayoneted.

Merode presented to Thiers a petition of Belgian Catholics requesting the French intervention for the maintenance of the temporal power of the Pope.

VERSAILLES, May 3.—The batteries are breaching Issy to night.

PARIS, May 3.—The column Vendome will be demolished on the 8th and on the same day all the statues and vestiges of the monarchial regime will be destroyed.

In an infantry engagement before Fort Issy the Versaillists were repulsed with considerable losses on both sides. There were engagements also at Neuilly. Both sides hold their old places. The Communs are silent regarding the Clamart battle. Postman sends the Communs a dispatch, contents unknown.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A dispatch from Versailles, Tuesday evening, says after hoisting the white flag on Fort Issy, the insurgents hauled it down. They will soon surrender. The same fate will soon befall Forts Montrouge and Vanvres.

Rossel is much more dreaded by the Versaillist commanders than was Cluseret and he is regarded as a much better commander.

At Pont du Jour the insurgents tried to erect a citadel, but Fort Valerien threw 60 pound shells a minute and totally destroyed the work.

Spies report 30 000 Nationals ready to support Versaillist troops, but only when they enter Paris. The anger of the troops against the insurgents is inconceivable. Our troops refuse quarter, and it is useless for officers to urge mercy.

PARIS, May 2.—General Negrey is to be tried by court martial for abandoning Fort Issy.

Other European Dispatches.

FLORENCE May 2.—The Italian Senate has adopted the Guaranties bill slightly amended.

BUCHAREST, May 3.—The Roumanian elections resulted in favor of the Government. There were but few disturbances. A conspiracy to kill and plunder the Jews was nipped. The ringleaders, officers of the Roumanian army, were cashiered.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 3.—It is thought that the Khedive of Egypt comes to visit the Sultan and to send a representative to congratulate King Amadeus.

VIENNA, May 3.—The Minister of Instruction has declared the Government's position on the abolition of the concordat and announced that he would consider the practical consequences of the dogma of infallibility.

BOMBAY, May 3.—Advices from Zanzibar state that Dr. Livingstone is alive and well, but destitute.

EASTERN STATES.

The Joint High Commission.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A Washington special says notwithstanding the secrecy members of the Joint High Commission have professed in regard to points of the treaty and negotiations, there is no doubt it provides for the recognition of the claims of Englishmen for damages during our civil war, and that a money consideration will be given for the use of the Canadian fishing grounds that navigation of the St. Lawrence will be free to our vessels, also the navigation of Canadian canals being bound only to pay toll. The San Juan boundary question is not yet fully settled. We shall probably get all we claim in that direction. The close reticence displayed by Earl Dudley and the English members, is not so strictly maintained by our side. Our correspondent says the prominent points of the treaty are as stated that one demands for indemnity for the depredations of the Alabama are conceded. Englishmen in this country who suffered by our civil war are to be indemnified, and our fishermen are to have the privilege of resuming fishing, on payment of a certain sum as compensation therefor by the United States. It should be remembered, however, that damages to English ships are estimated at some $2,000,000 more than our estimate of damages by the Alabama.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Governor Safford who, it is reported, was soon to be removed by the President from the Governorship of Arizona, was here a few days ago, and is on the way back to the Territory. The President has had no thought of removing him.

Gen Crook Goes to Arizona.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Gen. Crook has by special order of the President, been assigned to the command of the Department of Arizona, in the place of Stoneman.

Good Effects of the Ku Klux Bill.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A special says the first step towards the execution of the Ku Klux law will probably be the issue of a proclamation by the President calling attention to the provisions of the law and the purpose to enforce it promptly and thoroughly whenever it may be violated. There is considerable evidence of the good moral effect of the law in suppressing the disorders of the South already.

A special Washington dispatch says the Haytien Minister has been authorized by his government to state that Hayti does not desire to conquer and control the Dominican Republic, but that its only object is to establish a boundary line between Hayti and Dominica. It would be pleased if a boundary could be guaranteed by the Government of the United States. The Hayti en Minister here has had the report of the San Domingo Commissioners translated into the French language with a view of distributing it in that form in Hayti and Europe.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Wm. Lefingwell one of the oldest real estate dealers in San Francisco died last night.

Since the announcement that the Marysville lottery will positively be drawn on the 10th tickets are selling very rapidly in San Francisco there seeming to be no abatement in the lottery mania here. Tickets for the new Grass Valley Festival are also making their appearance.

The steamer California has arrived from San Diego.

The ship Jerusalem from Port Townsend reports having seen the schooner Margaret Cracknell, reported a total loss at Coos Bay, afloat at sea, dismasted and water logged. The brig Hesperus was lying by her. The schooner was right side up and several men were on deck trying to rig a jury mast. They required no assistance and the Jeremiah Thompson proceeded on her voyage.

The California Acclimatization Society, incorporated to day. Capital, $50,000. Object, to introduce propagate and sell game, birds and fish.

The following are the delegates from the California State Medical Association to the National Medical Convention: J. J. Franklin, of Sonora; S. D. Campbell of Sussun; A. B. Mehring of Woodland; F. W. Capt. Isaac Harding, formerly of the ship Derby and recently of the steamer New World has been given command of the steamship Nebraska and will sail in her for Honolulu and New Zealand on Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Jerry Brackett, who had the gamblers who fleeced him arrested and then compounded with them for $450 and left for Gilroy, was to day fined $360 for contempt by Judge Stanley and committed to jail in default of $6 000 bail to secure his attendance at the trial.

The barks Clara P. Smith and Gold Hunter formerly in the lumber trade, sailed to day on fishing voyages to the northwest coast.

The activity of competition in the wool market has forced prices up in some interior towns beyond those of San Francisco. One lot of wool, purchased in Sacramento for a San Francisco firm and shipped here, was actually shipped back there and resold to a new buyer at a profit.

The report of the death of Wm. Tellingwell, real estate merchant mentioned yesterday was incorrect, he being in perfect health. The mistake grew out of a similarity of names, the other man not being in the directory.

Jose Herrera was convicted by the Municipal Court to day on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The fire which destroyed the government store house and wharf at Goat Island to day is supposed to have been accidental. The loss is not very great, no property being stored there.

SAN FRANCISCO May 3.—The destruction of the Government storehouse at Yerba Buena Island to day involved a more serious loss than at first supposed. There was a large quantity of engineering instruments, tools, stores, pontoons, etc in store all of which were destroyed. The fire caught from a spark from the chimney of the hospital. There was one man in the hospital and one on duty only, when the fire commenced. Before it had burned long, Sergeant Burke and the other four men, composing the garrison, arrived. Loss, from $30,000 to $40,000.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It is said to be no longer a secret that a combination has been formed having Senators Sumner, Schurz Patterson Tipton and Patrick among its leaders, to prevent the renomination of General Grant. And it will amount to about as much as the combination of Fremont & Company to defeat President Lincoln.

The Boston Journal says: "The fervid speeches of Senator Morton and Vice President Colfax before the Indiana Republican Association at Washington remind us that the next Presidential campaign is not so far off but that its probable issues and prospects are in the minds of thinking men, and are operative upon the politics of to day."

The Republicans have carried a very large number of Democratic cities this spring. The reason is that Democratic cities are usually very ill governed and the doing out of much of the old party feeling has led people to a temper to look to their [illegible] and to revolt against the city [illegible] by Caucus prostituted to the service of corrupt rings.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 4, 1871.

An Intelligent Policy.

During the present recess of Congress preparations are to be made by the appropriate Committees to revise the whole existing system of taxation, and to adjust both the internal revenue and the tariffs on a plan as consistent as possible with each other. A reduction on a systematic and harmonious plan is the object aimed at. The design is to divide the subject and set each member of the Finance C[illegible] Towards the close of the recess the members are to meet, put their work into formal shape and be ready to present it at the opening of Congress in December. Senator Sherman, at whose suggestion this plan was adopted, believes that with the existing disposition to economize, the ordinary expenditures of the Government, exclusive of interest, and of the provision for a sinking fund and pensions, can be brought down to $100,000,000. If the funding goes on as successful as now anticipated he thinks the interest will be reduced to $110,000,000; the sinking fund will then require $25,000,000, and pensions $30,000,000, making the entire expenditures $265,000,000. If the revenue at the present rate is collected, it will reach next year $320,000,000, and thus make possible a reduction of taxation at the next session of from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. It is believed that the Committee will recommend the raising of nearly the whole internal revenue from whisky and tobacco, and a low income tax.

[illegible] given as an outline of the plan [illegible] to adjust taxation. Congress is moving in this direction as fast as circumstances will allow. By the last Congress taxes [illegible] $80,000,000 per annum were [illegible]. It is worthy of remark in passing that the Democrats in both Houses, though agreeing necessarily about the high taxes, voted as a body against the reduction. They wanted the taxes kept up, thinking it would be a good card for their party. They could then go to their constituents, prate [illegible] enormous taxation and charge Republicans with refusing to give relief to the country. So, without doubt, at the next session they will oppose any further adjustment or reduction; but Republicans will proceed on their systematic plan of reducing taxes as the circumstances of the country will allow it. This shows that the Republican party proceeds on intelligent principles, while their opponents simply maintain a blind, clamorous and non-intelligent opposition.

Undoubtedly with the successful funding of the debt the consequent saving of interest and the improvement of financial prospects generally, a considerable further reduction of revenue will be admissible soon, and it may be considered certain that this policy will be carried out at the next session of Congress.

Decisions on the Legal Tender Act.

The Supreme Court of the United States has announced an intelligible decision on the legal tender act, squarely affirming its constitutionality. The Court thus partially reverses its decision of last term and corrects what many of the ablest jurists deemed a great blunder. The Chief Justice was mainly responsible for that opinion which was in substance that the legal tender act was constitutional as a war measure, but would be unconstitutional in time of peace. The reasoning by which this result was arrived at was unworthy of that high tribunal, and it is gratifying to learn that the whole subject has been reviewed, and a more substantial opinion announced.

This whole subject now appears to be settled on sound principles. It was within the province of Congress to pass the legal-tender act, and the [illegible] of the [illegible] rests not on any such flimsy pretext as that it was necessary for a state of war to exist to render it valid. It is also an established principle that contracts to pay specified sums of money, made before the legal tender law was passed, can only be fully satisfied by paying coin, and that the courts will enforce all coin contracts entered into since the passage of the legal tender act.

A Southern Journal on Ku Kluxism.

The [illegible] Register (Democratic) gives its friends some very wholesome advice. It says Ku Kluxism must be put down by the strong hand of the Federal Government, one of the two, and it is for the former to say which. Ordinary courts of justice have done nothing and do not promise to do anything. We wish to commend what the Republican says in the following paragraphs, to the Oregon Herald, which stoutly denies the existence of Ku Kluxism:

> The people of the South have one stern duty to perform in this matter, and that is to imitate the example set by a body of ex-Confederate soldiers under Gen. Stephen D. Lee, at Brookville Miss., a few years ago. A party of disguised men, assuming to regulate affairs in that vicinity had committed outrages upon peaceable citizens without warrant of law, and the regular authorities were unable to reach them by ordinary processes. The disorders were threatening to provoke military vengeance upon the entire community, when Lee with a party of his old command, organized, hunted down the desperadoes, hung one of them without judge or jury and drove the others from the country. By this summary proceeding security was restored, and military interference averted.
> If the people in this community in which we are violence is committed, would meet it with some similar action to this—if they would hunt down the disguised authors of it, and bring them surely to the penalty of their local laws, they would do more to rid themselves from Congressional enforcement bills, and military interference than could be effected by reams of constitutional argument. The masked desperadoes in the south, who visit the houses of citizens at night to threaten fulminate and assassinate [illegible] friends of the Southern people; they are [illegible] worse [illegible]

Direct Trade between Europe and Chicago.

The Chicago Tribune announces the consummation of arrangements for direct trade between the lake ports and Europe. Fifteen steamers have been placed on the line to run between the lake ports and Montreal, which is to be the point for trans-shipment for Europe, the cargoes of the lake steamers being there transferred to ocean vessels. The Tribune says:

> It is promised that the charges from Liverpool, Glasgow, and other trans-Atlantic ports to Montreal, shall be uniformly graded to the lowest tariff adopted from the same place to New York. The total customs charge will be only one dollar per ton, the goods going into bond at the port of delivery, and the duty being paid at the port of destination. The time from Liverpool to Chicago will not exceed [illegible] days, all delays on customs account being avoided; and low rates of insurance will be charged on goods. The cost of shipment from Montreal to Chicago is not yet announced, but it is promised to be much less than rates from New York.
> This arrangement will be a great advantage in connection with the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Langley's Directory of San Francisco, just issued, claims for that city a population of 172,750. This is certainly an overestimate. The United States census, taken last year, made the population 150,362, and in this number 12,000 Chinese were included.

OREGON.

Salem's town clock has arrived. But there is no place prepared to set it up.

Judge A. A. Skinner has been appointed Deputy Collector of Customs at Coos Bay.

From the Baker City Democrat: On the 16th April a son of J. W. Dwinelle, Esq., aged only about eighteen months, wandered off from home, got separated from his playmates and was drowned in Salmon Creek.

C. W. Pettyjohn is out in the Salem Statesman with this notice: "I will shoot with any person in the State of Oregon, off hand, forty yards, with an open sighted rifle, best three in five shots, for a wager of $100, or a larger amount if required.

From the Baker City Democrat: We are informed by several gentlemen that William J. Goodwin, who has been mining in Quartz Gulch, near Malheur, cleaned up recently, and obtained six hundred ounces of gold dust, worth $16 to the ounce, making a sum total of $9,600. He was engaged only 65 days in active work.

A station is to be established on the O. C. R. R., at Shedd's place twelve miles south of Albany, and another at a point seventeen miles south of Albany. The track is now laid within about two miles of the one hundred mile post, and the workmen are waiting for iron. The telegraph company will erect a double line of wires along the railroad, and take down the old line on this side of the river. They will, however, build a line along the west side road, as that road advances.

The body of a man named Frank Sherbert was found in the yard of the Northwest Stage Company at Baker City on the 27th April. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that he came to his death by shooting himself, with a navy revolver. He was about thirty years old, of German ancestry and a native of Ohio. The ball passed through his heart. Strange to say he had always seemed contented with his lot and was perfectly temperate and industrious. Nearly $1,000 in money was found on his person. A more remarkable case of suicide has rarely been recorded.

THE TERRITORIES.

At Olympia, 4,840 acres of land and 431 town lots have been subscribed for railroad purposes.

The total amount of land disposed of at the Olympia land office during the month of April, was 15,069 acres.

The officers of the U. S. Land Department at Olympia announce that they will sell at auction about 1,000,000 feet of logs seized on account of having been cut on the public lands.

It is reported that a mammoth brewery is about to be started at Whatcom, Bellingham Bay, to manufacture 40,000 barrels of beer and ale annually, for San Francisco and South American markets.

A few days ago, at Helena, (Montana) a man named J. L. Pickett attempted suicide. He placed the muzzle of a revolver under his chin and fired. The ball glanced and came out through his right cheek. A surgeon was called, and Pickett, frisking around a good deal, was told to be quiet—that if he was fool enough to shoot himself, he must keep quiet and bear a little pain. To which he replied by asking, "who's bossing this job!" It is said that he will recover.

A Seattle paper says: Under the efficient management of Mr. Dinsmore, the Superintendent of the Seattle coal mine, a large quantity of coal is being brought over the tramway to the company's wharf at this place and shipped to San Francisco. The bark Moneyjunk cleared with 320 tons, which were taken on board in a little over two days time, and the Walter Raleigh, daily expected, will take a still larger amount. Eight new cars, specially designated for carrying coal have just been brought from San Francisco, and will be put into immediate use on the tramway.

Jenny Lind Again.

Some months ago one of the most discreditable newspapers in this country started a story that Jenny Lind had separated from her husband, the latter having dissipated his wife's fortune and driven her to give music lessons for a living. The story was widely copied in this country, notwithstanding the untrustworthiness of its origin, and even found its way into three English journals. Mr. Goldschmidt, having borne with such statements long enough, sued all three of the London papers for libel, and the cases were tried before the lord-chief-justice of England, on the 30th of March. The evidence was so clear and conclusive that it ought to set at rest all unfavorable rumors hereafter as to the relations of Mr. and Madame Goldschmidt. The latter testified that her fortune had not only been unimpaired since her marriage, but had been actually more than doubled. Her husband was addicted to no expensive tastes or habits whatever, was not a gambler, and did not even smoke, and his life was absolutely harmless and had been so ever since their marriage. Further, she declared that they had lived together in entire concord and harmony and had never lived apart. Mr. Goldschmidt gave similar testimony. All three of the suits were decided in favor of the plaintiff, who was awarded seven hundred and fifty pounds damages against each of two papers, and five hundred pounds against the third. The lord-chief-justice in summing up the case instructed the jury that they were to consider the injury he, the plaintiff, has sustained, and (though, indeed, in one sense, no damage could compensate him) you will give no vindictive damages, but such as will mark your sense of the nature of the libel, will vindicate his character and afford him protection in future from the repetition of such cruel aspersions upon it."

Washington correspondence of the New York Times states that the evidences that the opposition to the annexation of San Domingo is confined almost entirely to the dissatisfied and disappointed politicians are accumulating day by day since the matter has been placed before the people. There is unimpeachable testimony from Massachusetts that even the personal friends of Mr. Sumner, the gentlemen with whom he is most intimate socially and politically, almost as one man, disapprove of his course concerning San Domingo, and favor the annexation of the territory. The people of Massachusetts are also confidently believed to be largely in favor of the policy and measures of the administration in this respect. The report of the Joint Committee of the Legislature indorsing the course of the Government is received with great satisfaction in administration circles, since it corroborates the facts before stated. A trustworthy report of a general feeling among the Western people in favor of annexation is also received, and it already seems likely that the people will compel action by their representatives at the next session, whether the President should or should not seek to secure it.

A real estate transaction amounting to $5,500 is about to be consummated, for the Portland School District. Here is a problem in the single rule of three, which the scholars in the public schools may take for an exercise, viz: If a School Director in a real estate transaction for the District, which transaction amounts to $125, succeeds in pocketing $100 for his own use, how much will he be enabled to pocket out of a transaction amounting to $5,500?

Democratic members of the Connecticut Legislature oppose any investigation of the frauds whereby their party sought to make English Governor. Of course. That party didn't put up the fraudulent job with a design of subsequently aiding in an investigation to expose their rascality.

> In his younger days he was a victim to that passion for intoxicating drinks which has been the bane of so many distinguished men in the legal profession. Affianced to a beautiful and accomplished young woman, he had made and broken repeated pledges of amendment, and she, after patiently and kindly enduring his disgraceful habit, had at length dismissed him, deeming him incorrigible. Their next meeting, after his dismissal, was in a public street of the city of Richmond. William Wirt lay drunk and asleep on the sidewalk, on a hot summer day, the rays of the sun pouring down on his uncovered head, and the flies crawling over his swollen features. As the young lady approached in her walk, her attention was attracted by the spectacle, strange to her eyes, but alas! so common to others who knew the victim, as to attract little remark. She did not at first recognize the sleeper, and was about to hasten on, when she was led by one of those sudden impulses which form the turning points in human lives, to scrutinize his features. What was her emotion when she recognized in him her discarded lover! She drew forth her handkerchief and carefully spread it over his face, and hurried away. When Wirt came to himself he found the handkerchief, and in one corner the initials of the beloved name. With a heart almost breaking with grief and remorse, he made a new vow of reformation. He kept that vow, and he married the owner of that handkerchief.

Instruction in Music.—Somebody has written the musical catechism.

"What is a slur?"

"What is rest?"

"What is called 'singing with an understanding?'"

"What is a staccato movement?"

"What is a swell?"

"A professor of music, who pretends to know everything about the science, while he can not conceal his ignorance."

Dr Wise To-day.—"Tis madness to neglect a cough or cold. Consumption may follow, and though Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry cures the latter disease, yet the former disappear at once under its influence.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

There has been some competition of late among the crockery dealers. Shelby does not propose that anybody shall offer more inducements than he does, hence his advertisement in this morning's issue. There is reason to fear that the more goods he sells at those rates the worse it will be for him, but that is his business, and no doubt he knows what he is about.

CLARKE, HENDERSON & COOK

A FRIENDLY CALL AND WHAT WAS SAID.—It is human nature to tell our friends of our ailments. We all do it expecting sympathy Sympathy is a great comfort to invalids When we have recovered, too we are fond of talking of the medicines that relieved us This is a good trait in our humanity It shows we are grateful for boons received

The other day Mrs E Sutcliff the well known teacher of crayon painting, whose atelier is in Court street, Brooklyn was visited by a lady pupil who had been absent from her class nearly a month "What has been the matter?" said Mrs S, "Have you been sick?" "Very" was the reply "What complaint Dyspepsia I thought I should have died" "Ah and what did the doctors do for you, my dear?" said Mrs S "Nothing," responded the young lady "A gentleman friend" she continued with a tell tale blush, "induced me to try PLANTATION BITTERS, and you see the result I am perfectly well!" This conversation occurred in Mrs. Sutcliff's studio, and it is here given as she relates it, word for word.

"La Commune"

The Nation of recent date renders a service to myriads of puzzled Americans in briefly explaining what is passing in Paris at present what the insurgents mean by the Commune, and why they want the Commune, and in short what significance there is in this strange and, to most people unexpected and apparently as a wry rising against the national government elected by universal suffrage We epitomize its explanation

To understand the problem rightly, we have to go back to 1848 Prior to that year, the socialists were only a comparatively small sect, and propagated their doctrines by means of secret societies The revolution of 1830 was a political revolution purely, but it was probably the last purely political revolution that Paris was ever to see. The government of Louis Philippe was overthrown also by a sudden surprise on a political issue but the minute the ground was cleared, the socialists had time to occupy it, and obtained a strong foothold in the Provisional Government [illegible] and made it subservient to their [illegible] ore the bourgeoisie had recovered their stupefaction Indeed we find in [illegible] acts the very ideas which the Communists are fighting for

[illegible] ast decrees issued the day after [illegible] ordered the raising of a large [illegible] national guard, to [illegible] a franc and [illegible] and clothed by the government [illegible] no next day ordered all articles [illegible] in pawnshops to be retored to their [illegible] the public expense another made [illegible] an asylum for invalid working [illegible] another formally guaranteed employ [illegible] to all citizens and restored to the ouv[illegible] whom it belonged he must to of [illegible] ast unfalling due on the civil List All [illegible] forced on the Provisional Govern[illegible] he fierce mob of Paris and it was an elaborate system of procrastination Concession that these decrees were [illegible] reated Among other dodges used [illegible] rovisionals to gain time was the appointment of a commission to sit at the Luxembourg and discuss these subjects which in the most energetic and absurd possible But in this commission [illegible] the new measures proposed by the Paris were burned and lost, as bills are [illegible] and lost in our state or national legislatures committees

[illegible] was revealed the strange dislike [illegible] and to allow the country dis[illegible] he city By a course of reasoning [illegible] should call peculiarly French employed by the advocates of his country Paris has as [illegible] the eyes of the Parisians and par[illegible] anmasis, the position of an [illegible] ple might and wisdom and [illegible] by virtue of this superior [illegible] wisdom" by no means a collec[illegible] unanimited by a large body of [illegible] women. This curious fan[illegible] expression during the late [illegible] fulminances hurled at the Germans [illegible] Hugo predicted, just as the siege was [illegible] ning, and doubtless expressed the sentiments of thousands, that the enemy [illegible] d, in some mysterious manner be [illegible] when he arrived before the walls [illegible] he said, 'awaits you the thunder in [illegible] All through the siege this strange [illegible] strong as ever among the so[illegible] defeats and the prolongation of [illegible] k were due to "treason So was [illegible] nce of the Prussians The city [illegible] aken by fair means The eve[illegible] somehow would not be hanged up [illegible]

[illegible] have a complete justification [illegible] having France ruled by 'the [illegible] Paris ought to govern the coun[illegible] d to govern the seven millions [illegible] Paris The coming togeth[illegible] from the provinces to take [illegible] government was therefore, an [illegible] olly The notion was only be[illegible] possession of the popular [illegible] the events of the last twenty [illegible] helped to spread and strengthen it [illegible] Gambetta's persistence in car[illegible] in virtue of authority de[illegible] rasian mob and refusing to [illegible] country at large a strik[illegible] hold it had taken [illegible] men of the [illegible]

[illegible] the pro[illegible] [illegible] and for all, [illegible] and [illegible] class of an orderly republic possible [illegible] and save her from the disor[illegible] and violence that must result if [illegible] ists prevail

from the Herald of Health

[illegible] of the licentiousness which [illegible] perpetrated under the inflam[illegible] uence of ardent spirits Acting as [illegible] the base of the brain, where the [illegible] he animal passions are located [illegible] timulants work out their baleful [illegible] chiefly through the passions If [illegible] oto be taken of the great crimes [illegible] rson which come under the cog[illegible] n courts it will be found that [illegible] culprits committed their offenses [illegible] and It is notorious that the [illegible] e dens of shame are habitual [illegible] kers and nine-tenths of their patrons and [illegible] panions in lewdness are temporarily, if [illegible] constantly under the influence of [illegible] timulants The police reports of all cities [illegible] of assaults, and bloody affrays, [illegible] n slaughter and murder, as [illegible] as crimes against decency, are perpetra[illegible] y persons who are intoxicated. If a [illegible] rson occurs it is the wonder of all [illegible] may rise higher, enter political conven[illegible] n, be of legislature, and it will be [illegible] that the dissensions, strifes, and dis[illegible] not traitorous, transactions fre[illegible] ing, grow out of the same [illegible] of evil alcoholic stimulants

[illegible] ary inequality of man's mental nature [illegible] the perverted action of which [illegible] and crime, is not only warped [illegible] but temporarily doubled in its [illegible] and power, by the use of stimulants [illegible] sands of men who, when sober [illegible] regulated, just, amiable and excel[illegible] fathers, friends and citizens become [illegible] dangerous and fiendish by the [illegible] ming influence of ardent spirits

The organs of the animal propensities are more intimately related to the body than those of the higher mental powers, the use of stimulants tends to augment the force of these propensities, and by excess of action to drive them directly to abuse and perversion while the reason, the memory, skill taste prudence ambition moral and religious sentiments are misdirected, clouded and benumbed. We have known honest men who when under the influence of liquor would head take every dishonorable method to obtain money, in order to carry out their maudlin purposes, but, when sober, would scorn a lie or dishonorable act Who has not seen kind and benevolent men who when disguised by liquor, seemed callous to every sentiment of kindness? The soundest reason the sharpest perception and the clearest memory become clouded by stimulants until the unhappy victim is unable to manage his affairs or reason correctly on any subject Moreover every social tie is severed by intemperance—not in every case but in myriads of cases

The fair and loving wife and her prattling babe, who are the pleasure and pride of the husband and father, become the objects and victims of his hate and murder when his brain is fired by stimulants Many such a man has awakened from a drunken condition in a felon's cell, and been horrified when informed that he had slain his wife and child

If this state is not one of insanity it is akin to it, with the crime of intemperance added The setting on fire of the passions and blunting all the higher feelings dethrones all that is Godlike in man, and makes him more brutish than a beast

It is sometimes asserted that some men can not make a speech or any other great and successful mental effort, until they are aroused and stimulated by strong drink Men may become so accustomed to the use of alcoholic liquors as to require a large amount to rouse them to effort The same is equally true of those who use opium morphine arsenic but who thinks the poisoning of a person by arsenic or morphine a proper or desirable mode of whipping the faculties into action? Who does not know that the slave of opium or arsenic is using up his life force and will soon break down his abused constitution and die by poison? Does not the very common yet awful disease called, delirium tremens settle the question as to the dire effects upon mind and body of alcoholic stimulents? Is delirium tremens a more reputable or less terrible death than that produced by the poison of opium or arsenic? Who would not prefer to see a loved friend if he must die an untimely death, glide into the dreamy elysium of the opium eater, until consciousness is smothered in the silence of death, than to witness the mental agony of one whose brain, all on fire with alcoholic poison, sees monstrous specters which seem to the victim to bite and devour him? This is insanity intensified—consciousness a thousand times magnified in its capacity for suffering, having all the pains of the martyr at the stake with none of the martyr's consolations. Dante's 'Inferno' pictures no worse tortures than such a brain recognizes in rapid review and makes them all its own until wearied nature releases its unhappy grasp of life, and the tortured spirit is launched upon the unseen and eternal

A Parisian's Opinion of Americans in Paris

[Paris Letter in Cincinnati Gazette]

O, there are some so good as the good of Paris, and there is nothing in all the world so beautiful as their goodness But Paris is supreme Paris allows no rival Paris keeps her black hand upon these white souls. Paris the harlot reigns over Paris the saint And, mark it, all the world pays court to Paris the harlot and never dreams of Paris the saint The Americans and the English prostrate themselves and all they possess before Paris the harlot and never give a sou to Paris the saint Yes my dear friend you Americans—I grieve to make so grave a charge—are the best customers at this market of virtue and heroism For twenty years, part slavishly you have done your utmost to help us on to this precipice, over which we have now fallen You have heaped fuel on the fire that has burned us up Americans who revel in the rottenness of Paris are the most violent upon the corruption of the capital They go where I, an old Parisian have never been, and would not go Americans make discoveries in Paris which the inhabitants do not know of And for wallowing in the filth thus industriously searched out commend me to the Americans They glory in having found it, they glory in having wallowed in it, and yet they glory in being opposed to it all! They are viciously fond of what they are viciously indignant at. American women can go where Parisian women of respectability are never seen, and American gentleman do what a French gentleman would scorn to do So you see that while I admit the frightful degeneracy of our people I must say I think the abuse we get from our guests is hardly fair, while these guests show so much relish for what they affect to detest What a wonder if our sea of filth runs over, if every foreigner who comes to us contributes his basketful? How many Englishmen come here to spend a life of debauchery which they dare not attempt at home, and yet every man of them is careful to discourse to us and to his countrymen upon the licentiousness which prevails in Paris. And now that we are down, fallen crushed under this stupendous avalanche of iniquity and corruption these virtuous Anglo-Saxons are the most furious in their denunciations of us, and the most pious in their tracing out the origin and intention of the judgment After contributing what they could to our present situation they commend us to the retributions of a righteous Providence in the hope that the terrible chastisement will bring us to a more upright manner of life But if Paris were an upright city, how many Anglo Saxons would make it their home? If Paris were puritanical how many Americans would care to visit at or having visited it, would find anything attractive in it?
